WalkingLab’s Walking Resources

Art, Literature, and Creativity

Belonging, Othering, Culture, and Identity

Borders, Boundaries, and Divisions

Gender and Sexuality

Guided Tours

guides to enable public discovery of historical events. Personal and Ubiquitous 21(4), 1-17.

Hickey, A., & Phillips, L. (2013). New kids on the block: Young people, the city and public pedagogies. Global Studies of Childhood, 3(2), 115-128.

Anthropologica, 55(1), 73-85.

Ethnography, 9(2), 175-196.

Hospitality and Tourism, 13*(2), 103-114.

Interviewing

Carpiano, R. M. (2009). Come take a walk with me: The “Go-along” interview as a novel method for studying the implications of place for health and well-being. Health and Place, 15(1), 263-272.

Davies, K. (2011). Knocking on doors: Recruitment and enrichment in a qualitative Applied Geography, 31(2), 849-858.

Garcia, C., Eisenberg, M., Frerich, E., Lechner, K., & Lust, K. (2012). Conducting go-along interviews to understand context and promote health. Qualitative Health Research, 22(10), 1395-1403.

Jones, P., Bunce, G., Evans, J., Gibbs, H., and Ricketts Hein, J. (2008). Exploring space and

A conversation between Raja Shehadeh and Marina Lewycka, September 2008.
Political Quarterly, 80(1), 4-16.
Media and Technology

Mobilities

Nature

Parade and Protest

Pilgrimage and Spirituality

Place and Space

Sensory and Perception

Time, Speed, and Rhythm

Urban and Built Environment

